CHICOPEE COMPREHENSIVE
HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY

To every thing there is a season, and a time
to every purpose under heaven:
A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant and a time to pluck up that which is planted;
A time to kill and a time to heal; a time to break down and a time to build up;
A time to weep and a time to laugh; a time
to mourn, and a time to dance;
A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;
A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep and a time to cast away;
A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war and a time of peace.

Ecclesiastes 3:1-8

CHICOPEE COMPREHENSIVE HIGH SCHOOL

Chicopee, Massachusetts

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: CATHERINE FAY

ASSISTANT EDITOR: TERRANCE RATTIGAN

The standard dedication could easily be placed in this space, full of pretty words and extolling generalities. Yet the man to whom this volume is dedicated is much too complex for such superficiality. Contact with students has given him a far superior understanding of human nature than any course could teach or any degree might indicate. Whether we meet him in the halls or visit him in his office, he always seems to know how and why we feel and behave as we do. His analysis of our actions and attitudes, however, is far from a cold, passive one. In every way humanly possible, he has advised us, criticized us — always encouraged us to search for our true capabilities and possibly along the way gain a glimmering of self-knowledge. To this man, Mr. William Coscore, Vice-Principal, the Class of 1966 respectfully dedicates this Memini.

A YEAR IN OUR EXISTENCE

And if you could keep your heart in wonder at the daily miracles of your life, your pain would not seem less wondrous than your joy;

And you would accept the seasons of your heart, even as you have always accepted the seasons that pass over your fields.

Kahlil Gibran

Renewed Activity Once More Transforms Comp Into A Thriving Organ . . .

A break from chem lab and those awful goggles is always a relief.

As class begins, Mr. Hurst finds himself surrounded by his students.

As Another Exciting Fall Begins.

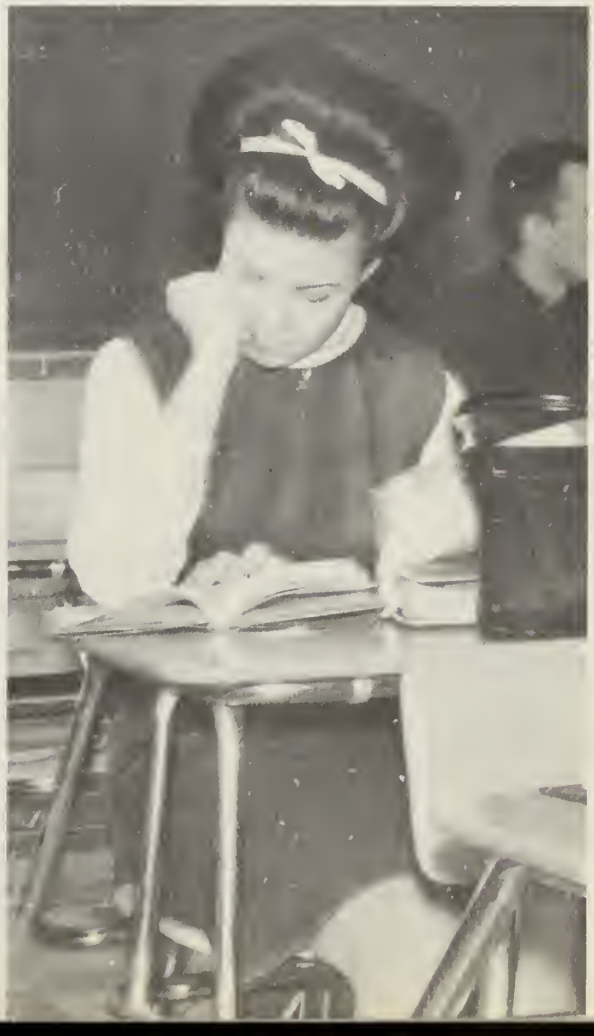
A class settling down at the beginning of a period is like a three-ring circus.

Taking a break from Saturday morning marching band practice Bev Bialas and Joe Ausikaitis soon learn that a baton can't quite replace a field hockey stick.

As Bev Kirsch discovers, homeroom is a great time to finish what should have been finished the night before.



The raucous blare of the band at the Get-Acquainted Dance provides a welcome relief from nightly sessions with the books.

Ricky Wysk completes a physics problem.

Meeting new faces is a must throughout high school, and where is a better place than on a pulsating dance floor.

Preparing for an afternoon contest is the varsity football team.

During the Holyoke game, the ref confers with Comp tri-captains Eddie Mis, Rick Belles, and Fred Crandall.

West Side defenders are unable to stop Rick Belles (39) from picking up a first down.

Mr. Otis gives one of his ever-intriguing lectures.

Sports and Studies Vie for the Interest of Students.

Immortalized forever in the instrument room are Tom Griffes and Bill Baggett.

Rich Stinnette and John Ausikaitis have a Longmeadow player to contend with as they try to "head" the ball.

The players and the fans are so close, yet they occupy two different worlds.

Two people are oblivious to the cheering around them.

No day is complete without the company of good friends.

So Often
Our Thoughts Separate Us
from the Surrounding World.

Concern is written plainly on the face of a cheerleader.

As Bill Senter demonstrates, studying is one of the inevitabilities of high school life.

Mike Hurley determinedly dribbles the ball down the field in a rivalry with Longmeadow.

A Pre-Game Rally Sets the Pace . . .

The friendly rivalry of the Chicopee-Chicopee Comp football game is exemplified by the cheerleaders.

The delightful Colt, Comp's mascot, wins some new friends from Chicopee High's delegation at the exchange rally.

Grinning from ear to ear, these boys seem only too willing to accept a carnation from our fair Student Council President, Regina Lenart.

Our own cheerleaders combine with those from Chicopee High for a final friendly touch to the rally.

An Expectant Crowd . . .

and a New Queen

Escorted by the players, the candidates for football queen and princesses make their smiling entrances.

A pretty flower for a pretty court member.

Flooding the gym with exuberance, the cheerleaders raise the spirit for the Chicopee-Chicopee Comp game.

"Abelard" begins its trek to the event of the day — the annual Chicopee-Chicopee Comp football clash.

The Long-Awaited Battle Is Fought . . .

Her Majesty graces the gridiron for a brief appearance before gametime.

Chicopee's advance is quelled by end Rick Belles.

Rushing to Babineau's aid are Finfinger and Jagodowski.

. . . and School Life Goes on As Usual.

Gym classes add variety to the ordinary tedium of blackboards and books.

Bus rides are nice, but 7 A.M. is a little ridiculous.

Basketball practice for "Kitch" is briefly disturbed.

The Promise of Christmas Is Fulfilled . . .

The Christmas Tree erected by the National Honor Society in the Chinese Garden adds a warm glow to the school.

Mr. Ziemba, Student Council President Regina Lenart and Police Captain Haggerty are dwarfed by the pyramid of over 7000 articles of food donated by generous Comp students during the Christmas canned food drive for needy area families.

A "Wonderland by Night" provides a romantic setting for the Christmas Cotillion.

The company of that certain person on the dance floor contributes to the enjoyment of a perfect evening.

An Exciting Alumni-Varsity Game Provides Thrills . . . and Surprises.

Some rough action occurs under the boards as Alex Popp (51) and Pete Zieja collide.

Bill Lapointe (52) gets the rebound while teammates Alex Popp (51), Eddie Matulewicz (31), and John Graham stand by for support.

Up in the air after the ball are John Erickson, Vic Anop, and John Kitchen.

A study in grace are these friends but temporary opponents as they wait a split-second for the result of a shot.

The varsity and alumni have a well-deserved time-out before the action of the unique game continues. The varsity ended it by pulling a surprise, defeating the Valley League and Western Mass. champs by a narrow 62-58.

The main staircase is a great place to get trampled during the three minute break between classes.

Teachers are not exempt from the wall-to-wall crush.

The attention of the players from both Comp and Greenfield is diverted to the floor as a search for John Kitchen's contact lens interrupts the game.

John Erickson grabs the rebound as the Colts turn for a fast break down the court in a home tilt against Holyoke Catholic.

Fun and talk before homeroom provide that extra lift to at least get the day started in a favorable direction.

It's a record-setting dash for the bus at 2 P.M. dismissal.

Backstage, Nick Hall feverishly practices his role as Dr. Chumley in the Senior Class play.

A common sight in Comp corridors throughout the fall and winter months are broken legs (and arms, and feet, and noses, and . . .).

Before a modern history class begins, Mr. Jendrysik speaks with a young practice teacher, Mr. Kowalczyk.

In the production of Harvey, a hysterical Veta Mae Simmons (Soozi Freeman) returns from the asylum with indignant cries of, "Is that all they do in those places?!?"

Experiences Shared Form the Greatest Part of Our Education.

Mr. Coscore always finds time for a friendly talk, both during and after school.

Basic Guiding
Thoughts,
Principles,
Aims
Have Been Shown Us,
from Which We Now Must Plot
Our Lone Courses . . .

A fire drill sends 1800 students out into the pleasing warmth of a spring-like day.

Sue Freeman takes a last-minute peek at her lines before going onstage.

. . . But Perhaps That Which Has Proven
To Be of Greatest Value
Is the Human Understanding
We Have Gained,

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

. . . And gladly would he learn, and gladly teach.

Chaucer

With the retirement of John L. Fitzpatrick, Superintendent of Schools, the students of Chicopee have lost a zealous administrator who has never ceased striving to better our school system. We, the students of Comprehensive, whose school was constructed during his administration, especially feel the loss of his dedicated service. While his efforts will be missed, we wish him many, many years of enjoyable rest from the daily pressures of public life.

As a final gesture, it is fitting that Mr. Fitzpatrick's final message to a Comprehensive graduating class is given to that class which has been the first to complete four years of attendance here. Memini '66 proudly carries his final words of wisdom . . .

To the Class of 1966:

If you will remember that:

The greatest comfort and that which gives the highest satisfaction is the pleasing remembrance of the many benefits and the friendly gestures you have given to others.

Then, your education at the Chicopee Comprehensive High School and the efforts of the city of Chicopee have not been in vain, and you will reap the harvest of happiness that insures success.

John L. Fitzpatrick

To the Class of 1966:

To you, the Class of 1966, goes the distinction of being the first graduating class to have spent a full four years at Comprehensive High School. During your stay here at Comp, I have come to know many of you, either through participation in musical affairs, or through senior class activities. Having seen the enthusiasm and vigor with which class projects were undertaken, I know that you will succeed in your every endeavor.

I wish you all the very best of luck, and am sure that the future will be a bright one.

Your advisor,

Allan E. Sittard

To the Class of 1966:

Another June has rolled around and your graduation is now here. In the next few weeks, many will tell you to go out into this world of ours and make your place. To you, members of the Class of 1966, I echo these sentiments; but let me add that this world of ours is a great place, and every day you will realize it more and more. During your four years at Comp we've tried to instill in you all the basic principles necessary to live a happy and productive life. I do hope that you will take advantage of this, as you take your places in the world and make this world a better place not only for yourselves but also for your fellow men.

Your advisor,

Donald J. Morissette

To the Class of 1966:

Please accept my heartiest congratulations on a job well-done. It does not seem too long ago that you entered this school for the first time as members of the freshman class. This, by the way, was the same day that Comprehensive High School opened its doors for the first time. Since then you have worked hard and your accomplishments are many.

I hope and pray that each and every member of your class will have an abundance of health, good fortune, and material things, as well as a good share of the spiritual blessings.

Always keep in mind that your education does not end when you graduate from high school or college or graduate school. As long as you live, your education will continue. Take advantage of every opportunity to learn. Knowledge leads to better understanding which is what everyone should be striving for.

Your Principal,

Stanley J. Zimba

To the Class of 1966:

Writing a message to a graduating class is extremely difficult. To offer words of advice to a group that I have become extremely fond of is even more difficult. As we part company after four, very, very, short years, I would like to thank you for many contributions to Comprehensive, and secondly, for your contributions to me personally.

From you I have re-learned the true meaning of honesty and sincerity. This is something that we adults, all too often, take for granted. Your frankness — your sincere inquisitiveness when you do not understand — your demands for full explanations of all issues . . . these and many other attributes have convinced me that you are ready to take your place in our adult society.

With the passing of time, the records in the classroom, and in all inter-school and intra-school activities, become less meaningful. The type of person one becomes, how one lives his daily life, and especially how one relates to his fellow man — these are the important areas of accomplishment.

I sincerely believe you are ready to meet the challenges. Having known you and having worked with you have made me better prepared to meet my own.

Your Vice-Principal,

William Coscarelli

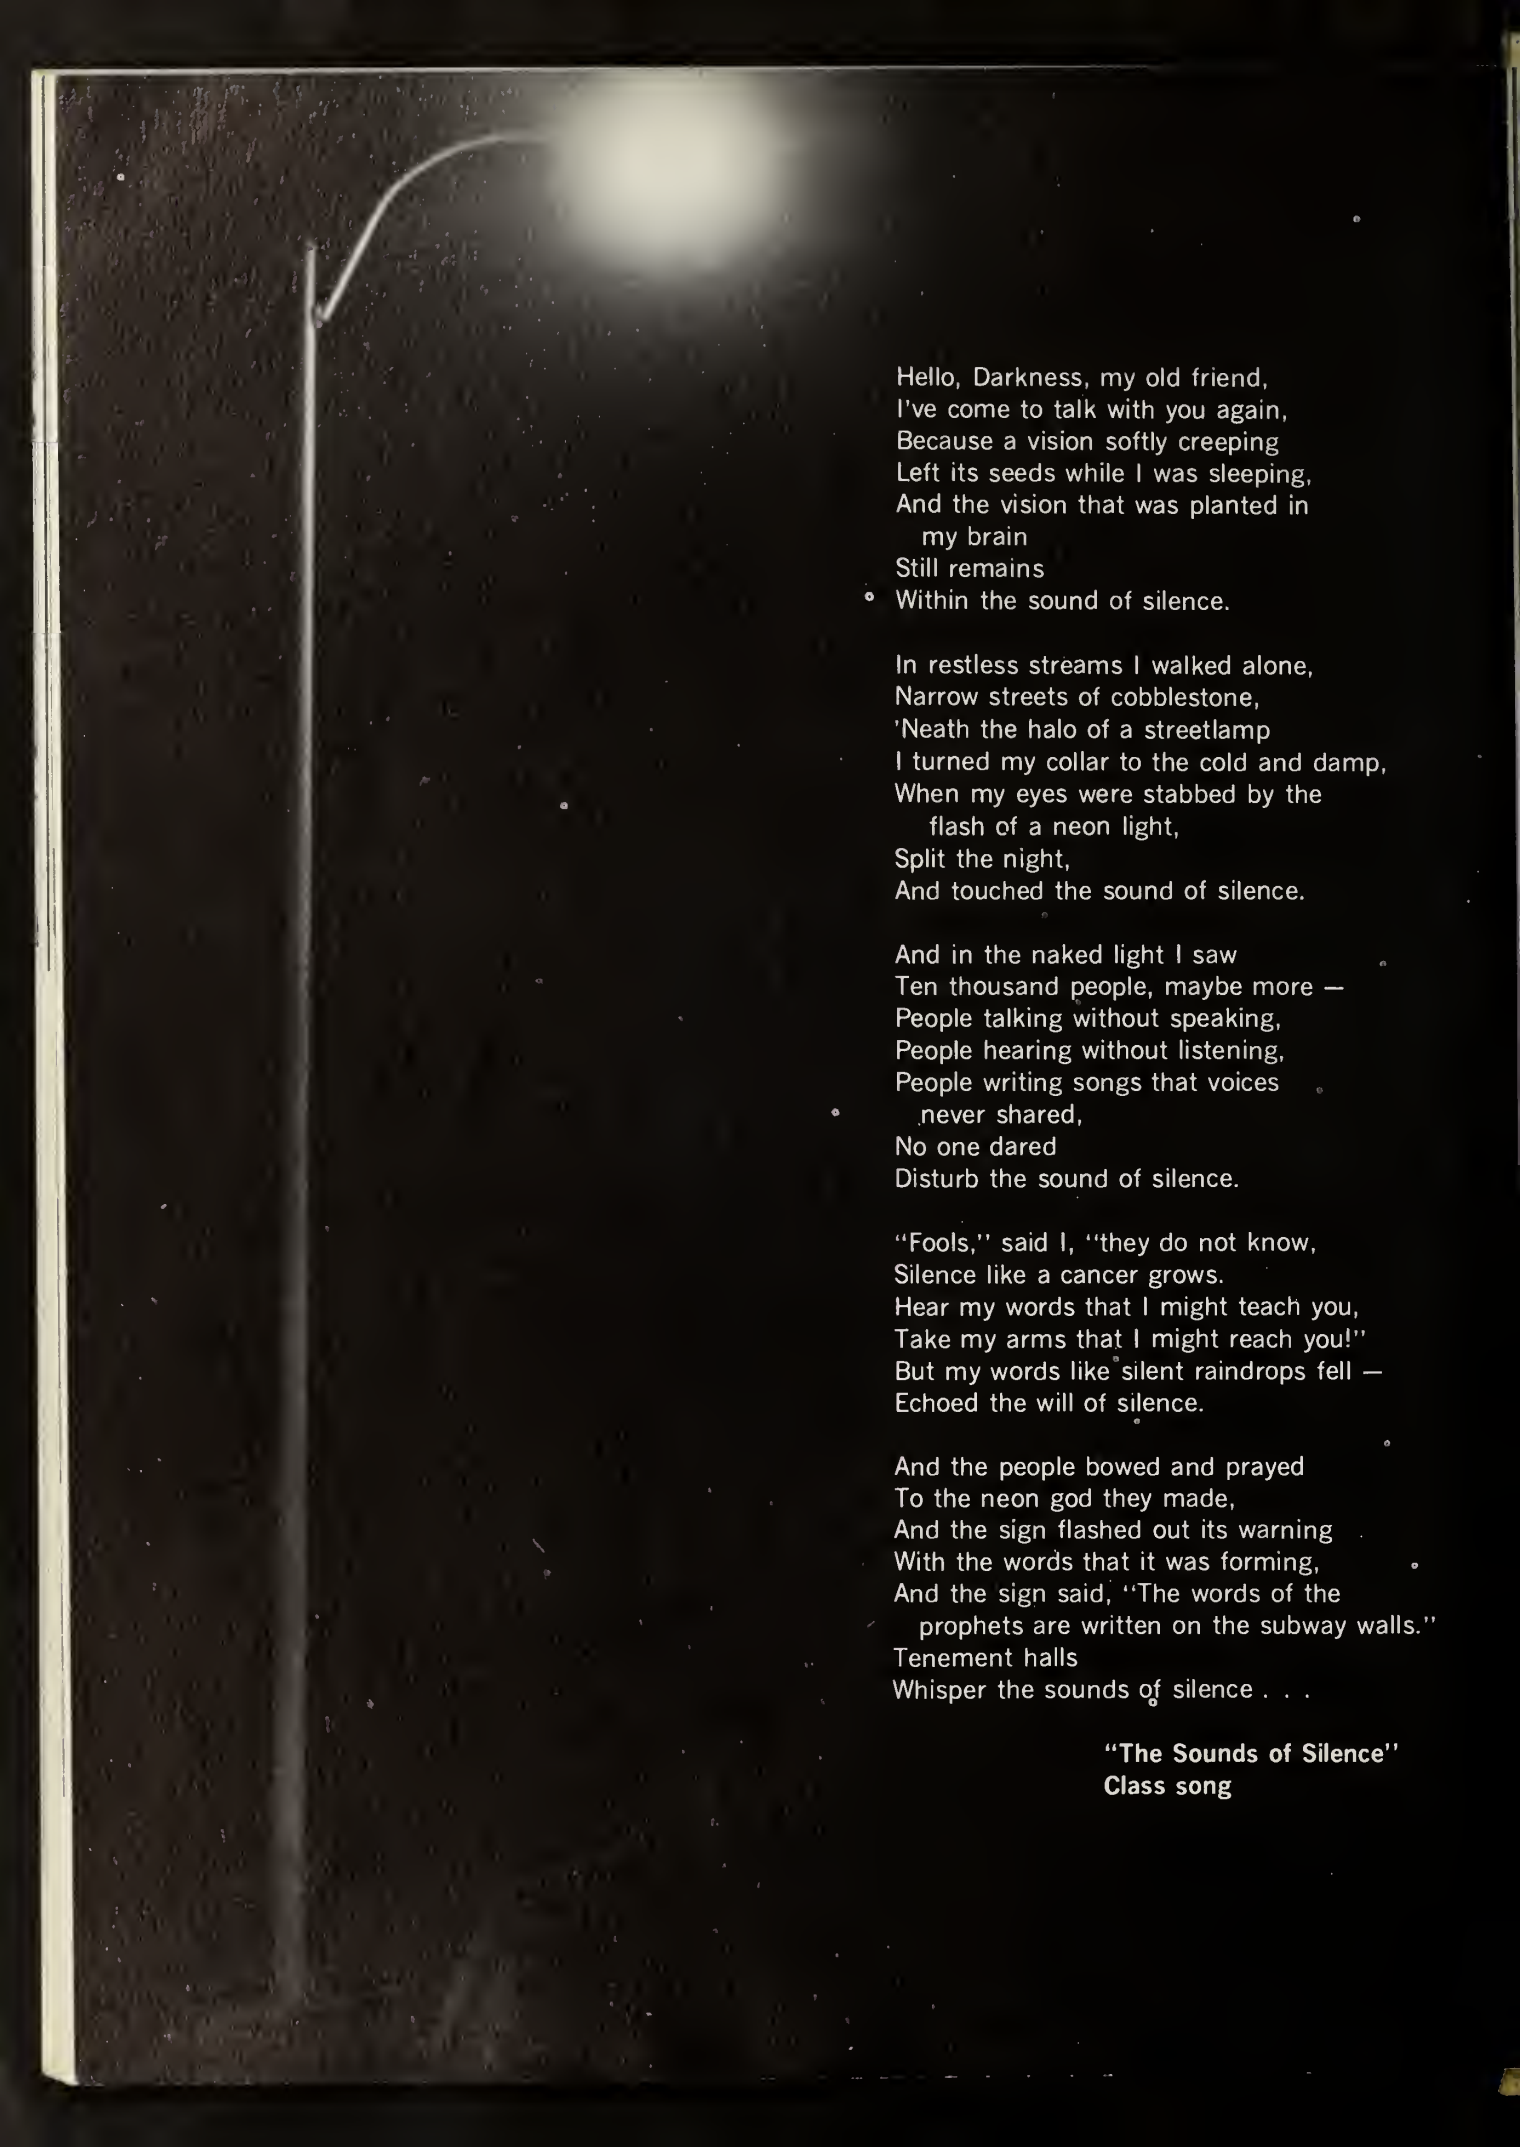
PETER SYLVESTER ZIEJA



Hello, Darkness, my old friend,
I've come to talk with you again,
Because a vision softly creeping
Left its seeds while I was sleeping,
And the vision that was planted in my brain
Still remains
Within the sound of silence.

In restless streams I walked alone,
Narrow streets of cobblestone,
'Neath the halo of a streetlamp
I turned my collar to the cold and damp,
When my eyes were stabbed by the flash of a neon light,
Split the night,
And touched the sound of silence.

And in the naked light I saw
Ten thousand people, maybe more —
People talking without speaking,
People hearing without listening,
People writing songs that voices
never shared,
No one dared
Disturb the sound of silence.

"Fools," said I, "they do not know,
Silence like a cancer grows.
Hear my words that I might teach you,
Take my arms that I might reach you!"
But my words like silent raindrops fell —
Echoed the will of silence.

And the people bowed and prayed
To the neon god they made,
And the sign flashed out its warning
With the words that it was forming,
And the sign said, "The words of the prophets are written on the subway walls."
Tenement halls
Whisper the sounds of silence . . .

Oblivious to the "treachery" around him, the affable alcoholic, Elwood P. Dowd, nonchalantly suggests some places that the group might visit downtown — "Now there's Charlie's Place, Blondie's Chicken Inn . . ." Meanwhile, Dr. Chumley is concerned with his hypo of formula 977, guaranteed to make Elwood a "normal" person.

In this scene of the Mary Chase comedy, Elwood (Brett St. Lawrence) comforts his sister Veta Mae Simmons (Soozi Freeman) as Judge Gaffney (John Ausikaitis) looks on. Others in the cast were Beth McRobbie, Shirley Martel, Gloria Respess, Evelyn Griffin, Edgar Riberdy, Richard Stinnette, Nicholas Hall, Carole Hoefener, and Michael Hurley.

A DELIGHTFULLY FUNNY

MIX-UP AND MADNESS

Elwood P. Dowd formally introduces his friend "puka", the invisible white rabbit, Harvey, to a disbelieving Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet, played by Evelyn Griffin: "You can't miss him he's really very tall, like so . . ."

Taking advantage of a break on a performance night, the director, Mr. Vail Otis, calmly eats a tangerine.

THE STORY OF OUR CLASS

AND THE WORLD OF WHICH IT IS A PART . . .

FRESHMAN YEAR
1962-1963

We, the future leaders, the Class of '66, arrived at Chicopee Comprehensive High School, eager to accept (or reject) new challenges.

This, our freshman year, was certainly an abnormal one. No Senior class, an unfinished, unofficial building, and a six period day contributed to the uniqueness of the year. We were the first class to enter completely disconnected from Chicopee High traditions and to attend Comp for a full four years. In a sense, we were practically the equals of the other classes — trying to act sophisticated and trying VERY hard NOT to ask for directions (of course, everyone else was lost anyway . . . ). With the dedication on November 15, 1962, the cornerstone was laid and the school was officially opened.

Since our school was new, all students were faced with the problems of establishing traditions, such as school colors, mascot, and motto. One newly-established tradition, the Educational Fair, was not only a first for the school, but also for the entire area. Also unusual was a magnificent snow sculpture of a Colt, completed under the watchful eyes (and numb hands) of Miss Borowiec.

Wrap-around skirts, "ratted" hair, German measles, and doctor shirts (worn by the female followers of Ben Casey and James Kildaire) reached their acme. Ever-popular was the sweatshirt, emblazoned with everything from Beethoven to "When you're as great as I am, it's hard to be humble."

As the school year ended, we could honestly say that our class had finally gotten used to the new kind of school life — changing classes, losing bus cards, having individual cloakrooms (lockers!) — and at last we were able to survive without our old mid-morning milk break (replaced by a mid-morning lunch break!). Truly we could say that we had passed into our own "New Frontier" (minus the 50-mile hike).

1963-1964

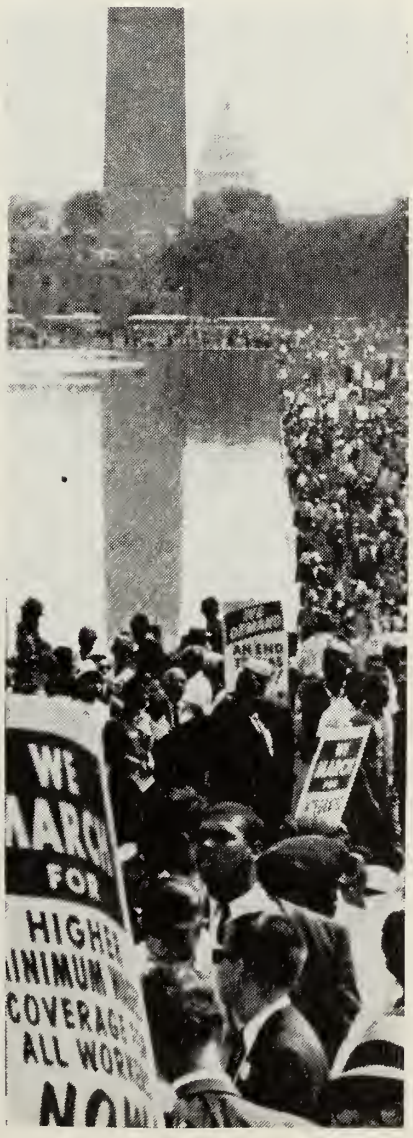
While the Class of '66 was readjusting to studies after a fun summer, world happenings accelerated at a dizzying pace. On an abnormally warm and pleasant day late in November, President Kennedy was assassinated. Strangely disbelieving that our leader was gone from us, we sophs throughout the weekend silently kept close to the TV, which was respectfully devoid of commercials. The lives of John XXIII, former President Hoover, General MacArthur, and Prime Minister Nehru also came to an end. A devastating earthquake shook Alaska on Good Friday, and the Winter Olympics were held in Innsbruck, Austria. The monstrous March on Washington went off successfully, and the New York World's Fair opened with the cries of "Freedom NOW!" by civil rights demonstrators. Their patient song of endurance, "We Shall Overcome", was popularized by folksinger Joan Baez, while social commentators Peter, Paul, and Mary sang "The times, they are a-changing . . ."

Despite the riddles of geometry problem-solving and the nausea induced by formaldehyde (just before lunch, of course), we still found plenty of time to get swept into the mad, mad, mad world of Beatlemania. A soph and his transistor (or Beatles album) could ne'er be parted. And throughout the world, the Liverpool foursome had a profound affect, transcending national and ideological barriers.



Not even this British madness, however, could overshadow the excitement of class elections. John Kitchen became our president with Vice-President Bonnie Byrne, Secretary Barb Hannigan, and Treasurer April Baker serving under him. As June passed, we anticipated the activities of an organized class.

JUNIOR YEAR
1964-1965

As we returned to Comp for our third year (and started reading the newspaper again — no, not the funnies, not the sports . . . YES! the FRONT PAGE!), we felt that an old friend had left us when we learned that Nikita Krushchev of shoe-banging fame had fallen from power in Russia. The loss of Sir Winston Churchill was sincerely felt, especially since he had been made an honorary citizen of the U.S. by an act of Congress. The 1964 Olympic Games closed in Tokyo, Japan, followed not long after by the landslide election of Lyndon Baines Johnson in the presidential race.

Football was the prime fall activity. Comp pulled the upset of the year in defeating Agawam, the otherwise undefeated AA-Conference champ by 16-14. The big game of the season, spirit-wise, was the 13-6 victory over Chicopee. On a perfect afternoon, the Colts galloped over the Pacers before the eyes of the football queen, Donna Geraltowski, and school and city dignitaries (and, of course, several thousand screaming fans).

Meanwhile, politics occupied the minds of many Juniors. Goldwaterites stubbornly stuck to their man despite the fact that they were an obvious minority. $AuH_2O$ became their trademark, and what they lacked in numbers, they made up for with vociferousness.

On the winter sports scene, Mr. Welker's boys finished first in the Fay Division of Western Mass. hockey. To top the season off, the basketball team not only captured the Valley League title, but also took Western Mass. honors by successively dumping St. Joseph's, Drury, and Tech in tournament games at the Springfield College Field House. In the Tech finale, Comp fans went wild as the buzzer sounded (throughout the whole game, for that matter). For a three-year old team (and school), the boys had certainly come a long way. Further post-season play carried the varsity to the State Tournament held at the Boston Garden. For the quarter-final play, the "Comp Caravan" of 18 busses and many private cars, a total of over half the school, travelled to Boston and were rewarded when the Colts rolled over Oliver Ames, 72-56. In a hard-fought semi-final contest against Durfee, the Colts fell 65-59, but not before Al Popp racked up 32 points, making him the tourney's hottest shooter. After a sensational season of play, the final win-loss record was 20-5.

Meanwhile, spies became the thing on TV. Illya Kuryakin, Napoleon Solo, and Mr. Waverly of "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." began their unending battle against the evil THRUSH. A more realistic British product, "Secret Agent", also proved popular. At the box office, "Goldfinger" with Sean Connery as the cold, calculating James Bond, agent 007, was a crowd-pleaser (It's not every day that Ft. Knox is ALMOST successfully invaded).

Trends in art turned to fantastic geometry and stark realism (so stark it was unreal). Op art with its ocular deceptions teased the brain. And pop art (a can of Campbell's soup is ART?) came into vogue.

While boys continued to dress collegiate, the length of their hair certainly began to verge on the British. Long, straight (fresh from the ironing board) hair was the "in" look for girls, while "weejuns" were a requisite. Styles ranging from mod empire-waist dresses to shifts to collegiate madras made the fashion scene varied. Boys began collecting jeans, both corduroy and denim, with white becoming a popular color.

As the spring sun warmed the air, concentration on the books began to slacken (just a little?) (no, just a LOT!). While the golf and tennis teams took Valley League titles, the baseball team managed to end with a commendable record, despite poor hitting (HOW did Mitch Burek manage to hit 3 homers?). The Comp mound staff, composed of John Graham, Bill Casteel, and John Kitchen, limited the opposition.

With spring also came thoughts of summer. May college boards brought many of us closer to rejections. Class elections brought Dean Sanner into the presidency and Marie Sienkiewicz one notch below him. Would-be surfers took to their skateboards and wiped out over asphalt instead of water. More and more students were absent (probably due to illness) as the great beach days of June rolled around. And as the second class graduated from Comp, the realization began to dawn upon us that WE were next.

SENIOR YEAR
1965-1966

The Class of '66 returned for its final September at Comp. For the last time we filled out enrollment cards; for the last time we shuddered in horror when we took program cards in hand and discovered who our teachers would be. As we dived (or just belly-flopped) into our studies, we couldn't help but think that it must have taken a real idiot to say that the senior year is the easiest.

Despite those nasty books that stared at us from desks and lockers, the fall proved to be exciting. The Beatles came to the U.S., causing mass confusion wherever they appeared. With the aid of pitching star Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers took the World Series. The entire region was plunged into darkness by the gigantic Northeast power failure. New York City was left a crippled giant, criss-crossed only by the linear patterns of headlamps. Gradually lights began to reappear across the Northeast as power was restored link by link. Firsts continued to occur in space exploration. With the flight of Gemini 7 and 6 the first space rendezvous took place. Meanwhile, Russia landed a soft package on the moon which transmitted extraordinary pictures of that satellite's pitted surface. War in Viet Nam continued as more American servicemen were sent to fight the Viet Cong in the guerilla war.

Winter came and with it a rather tame basketball season, livened mainly by Mr. Coscore's cheering squad who gathered each game at the top of the bleachers and yelled, "Hey, ZORBA!", whenever he entered the gym. Several games were interrupted by the search for a Colt's missing contact lens (usually an embarrassed Kitch). College ball was exciting to follow, though, especially the progress of the UCLA frosh and their star, 7'1½" Lew Alcindor. In an exhibition, the frosh easily trounced the UCLA varsity, one of the best in the country.

In January we seniors were introduced to a TV Batman who promptly gained the liking or emnity of everyone. The Dynamic Duo, a kind of live pop art, became famous for their brilliant dialogue and ingenious Bat-devices. Most of us took the pair as well-meaning but purposely overdone good guys. As the Joker so charmingly put it — "Fatman and Boy Blunder." We also watched the antics of Gidget, a fun-loving but profound teen. "Get Smart", a spy spoof, provided laughs in the form of a bumbling agent, Maxwell Smart, from whom we borrowed the immortal phrase, "Would you believe . . . "

European fashions became more prominent than ever, although few girls wore anything approaching wildness. The Mod look grew in popularity as "granny" dresses (which no self-respecting granny would be caught dead in) began to be seen. The number of poor boy sweaters increased, while the jester look of Mondrian patterns remained just a minor fad. It became increasingly difficult to tell the boys from the girls. However, most of us continued to look the same as we always had. At the same time, the English sound in music increased and we bought records by the Rolling Stones, the Turtles, the Loving Spoonful, the Byrds, and Simon and Garfunkel. The sound of Barbra Streisand also captured the attention of many of us sane seniors.

While enjoying the extracurricular pleasures of living, many of us caught a near-fatal case of senioritis. Still, we carried on. Times Square, the second floor intersection, continued to do a thriving business, particularly between periods when it became the community center for skippers, corridor guards and Mr. Coscore. Somehow, through this all, we survived through June and with the last flurry of Senior activity, prepared to say good-bye to high school days, both good and bad. With many fond memories we could manage to believe that it wasn't so bad after all.

ACTIVITIES

. . . For in the dew of little things the heart finds its morning and is refreshed.

Kahlil Gibran

The prime ingredients of a school are not bricks and glass. The prime symbol of a school is not its name. Memini '66 is a genuine attempt to portray the real Chicopee Comp through those things which, in truth, make it a reality — its educators and students. Without enthusiasm, without the emotion of caring, without the daily joys and tragedies, both major and minor, which draw people closer together, a school is nothing but a place where homework is assigned and tests are taken. Comp is not such an empty shell. We hope that within the covers of this volume we have been able to capture just a tiny fraction of the movement and life which are Comp.

COMP CHRONICLE AND L'ESPRIT STAFFS

Editions of the Comp Chronicle make their appearance eight times yearly. Published by the journalism class, this paper is eagerly read by Comp students each month. The hardworking staff is advised by Mr. William Ryan, while Beth McRobbie provides student supervision as editor-in-chief. Under her direction are the news editors, Allan Blair and Brett St. Lawrence; editorial editor, Theresa Guzek; features editor, Regina Lenart; and sports editor Diana Airoldi. With their capable staffs, these students compose an outstanding newspaper, made even more interesting by amusing interviews, original cartoons from the perceptive mind and hand of John Ausikaitis, and sports news from "insiders" who know.

The literary magazine, L'Esprit, has again been successfully produced, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Winder. Composed of poems, essays, and artwork of talented Comp students, it is a tribute to the creativity of American youth. Very meaningfully it illustrates l'esprit — the spirit, the soul, the mind of man.

A well-rounded group of novice and experienced debaters led Comp to a successful year in the Pioneer Valley Debate League. Advised by Mr. Stephen Jendrysik, the club traveled to debate meets held at Williamsburg, Westfield, Holyoke, Chicopee, and Frontier Regional high schools. The Comp band holds a prominent position in school life. During the football season, the marching band, together with the majorettes, performs halftime shows of precision drill routines with a great deal of speed and motion. Its movements are patterned after the bands of the "Big Ten" colleges, especially the University of Michigan.

Throughout the year, however, the concert band, also led by Mr. Allan Sittard, practices each week. This year it was invited to Mt. Greylock Regional High School in Williamstown for a clinic to which only five bands in New England were asked. The foremost authority in his field, Dr. Frederick Fennell, presently Director of Band and Orchestra at the University of Miami at Coral Gables, worked with the members of our exceptional band. In addition to this, the band performed at the University of Hartford, where it was invited due to its excellence. The annual Western Massachusetts Music Festival rounded out the many performances of the group.

The band, together with the chorus, was further distinguished by the members who were selected for District after rigorous competition. Further, Bob Berky and Charles Seiler were chosen to play on the All-State band, while Tym McDowell merited All-State chorus.

These girls are: Beverly Bialas, President; Linda Belle Isle, Vice-President; Kathy Kehoe, Secretary; and Judy Beauregard, Treasurer.

In a program somewhat similar to that of the Future Nurses, the Future Teachers of America gained new insight into the field of education. For when the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name,
He marks — not that you won or lost — but how you played the game.

Grantland Rice

Coach Welker tensely watches the progress of a game.

SOCCER

The soccer team, playing its fourth year of varsity soccer in the tough Pioneer Valley League, displayed consistent spirit despite the fact that the players faced many formidable foes. Coach Welker again guided the team through the season, while co-captains assisting him were Tony Mancini and Rich Stinnette. Practice and play began during the hot days of early September and did not end until Autumn and its cold winds descended upon the team's home field at Rivers Park.

Several members distinguished themselves and their team by being selected as Pioneer Valley All-Stars. Players chosen were: John Ausikaitis, fullback; Tony Mancini, forward; and Rich Stinnette, utility. Winning team scoring honors were Leslie Dinsbach and Tony Mancini. Other seniors leaving who will be missed by the team are Bob Berky, Mike Hurley, and "Manfred" Young. Hoping to be able to replace these boys next season, varsity coach Welker and J.V. coach Ryan have been grooming many promising underclassmen to fill the vacant positions.

FOOTBALL

In three short years our football team has developed from an obscure position among the independent teams to a place of contention in the area's top league. Ably coached by Leroy White, the team withstood the rigors of a difficult season with the help of tri-captains Fred Crandall, Rick Belles, and Eddie Mis. This fall marked their first season in the AA Conference, and our hard-hitting Colts demonstrated that undying spirit which has become a characteristic of Comp athletes. Enthusiastic crowds looked on as they proved themselves to be able contenders in this very strong league.

The team displayed consistent team effort, as well as individual prowess throughout the season. Fran Paquette, Lance Finfinger, and Dave Jagodowski were the big ground gainers in the backfield, while Fred Crandall and Ed Mis led the charge from the line.

Comp's strong junior varsity team concluded their season with an impressive record. Through the course of the season it produced many young stars who will contribute their skills to future varsity teams. Coach O'Brien provided the leadership for these boys. Also, many boys began their high school football careers by gaining experience on the freshman squad, learning many of the basic skills of the game from Coaches Charles Desmarais and George Ladeau.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

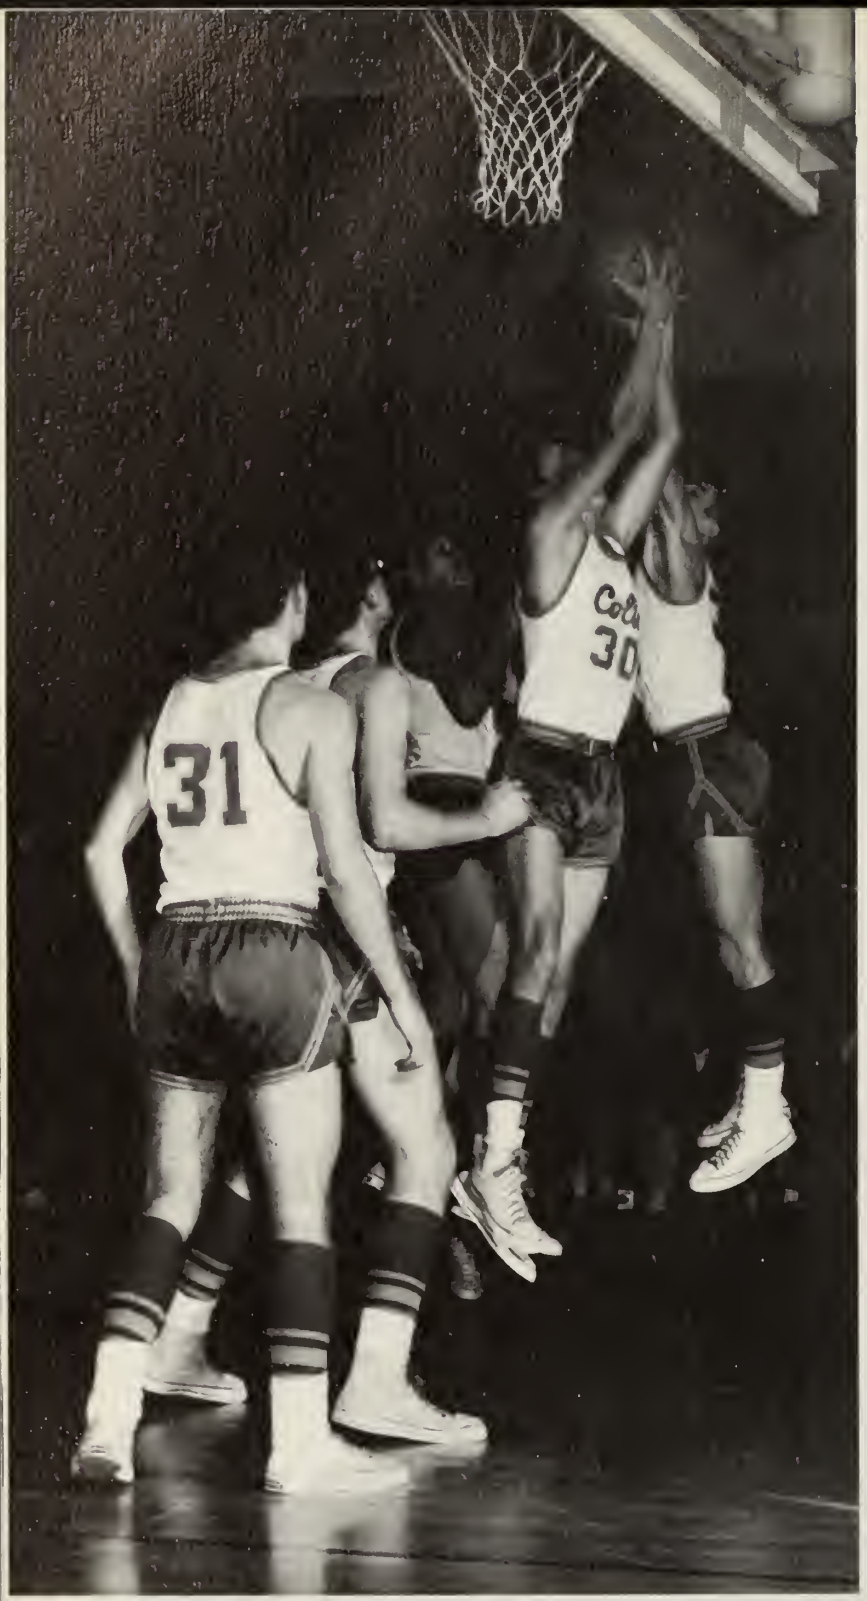
Making the team is not the only way by which students may develop themselves physically. A varied physical education program provides healthful activities for both sexes.

A word from Mr. White brings a smile in a weight training session.

Dan Logan takes the easy way over the horse in a gymnastics class.

Miss Wolcott demonstrates a stroke to one of her classes.

Weight training provides an excellent opportunity to get into shape during the off-season.



Pete Gustafson and Bill Senter go up for the rebound as Tom Como, Pete Zieja, and John Kitchen also gather under the boards.

BASKETBALL

This year Comp produced a rather unique basketball team. Although it lacked much in natural talent, seasoned experience, and the all-important element of luck, it did excel in other aspects. The team was forced to substitute desire for experience and extra effort for gifted ability. The season was marked with many close games and exciting overtimes. Despite the disappointments incurred by close scores, the Colts never failed to demonstrate their competitive spirit as a hard-driving team. Coached by Mr. Dulchinos, the Comp varsity played every game with a team effort. With the exception of captain John Kitchen, the squad was composed of first year varsity players. Bill Senter, Rick Wysk, John Erickson, Rich Hundley, and John Kitchen made up the relatively short but always hustling starting team. Tom Como, Phil Fortin, Pete Zieja, and Pete Gustafson came off the bench with consistent support throughout the season.

Comp's Junior Varsity is a hopeful prospect for the future. It was composed mostly of sophomores, many of whom have gained valuable varsity experience this past season. Mr. Richard O'Brien stood at the helm of this team, while co-captains Bob Bialas and John Surprenant provided player leadership.

Beautifully symmetrical, freshman Bill Nugent executes a perfect dive.

SWIMMING

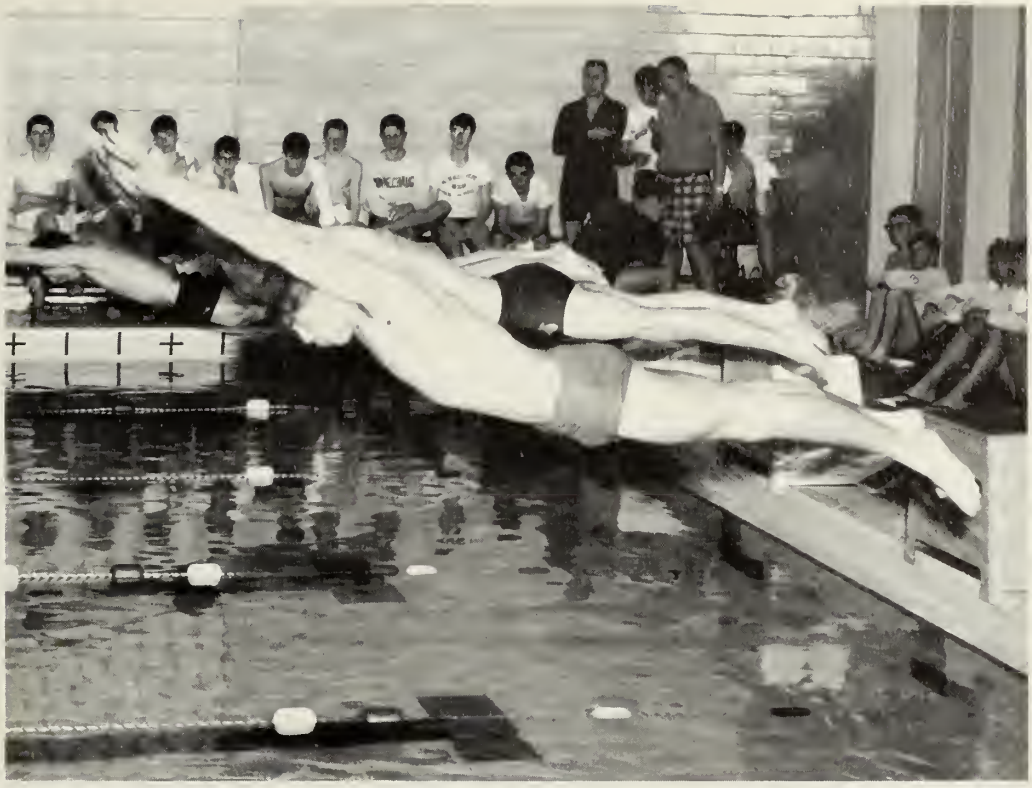
With a stunning win-loss record of 8-1, the Comp mermen swam to a tri-championship of the Valley League, together with tough rivals, Holyoke and Minnechaug. While Mr. Ted Budynkiewicz provided able coaching, Pete Honea and Greg Boisvere led the team as co-captains. The mermen possessed powerful individual depth in both swimming and diving events. Bob Brofft, an outstanding swimmer throughout the season, placed first in the individual medley of the Western Mass. meet, while finishing a fast second in the freestyle. In the State meet he brought home a first place finish in the individual medley, qualifying him for the New England meet, in which he participated. Mark Atwood, a promising soph, finished third in the Western Mass. 400-freestyle. All in all, as a team the boys displayed outstanding swimming. Seniors Greg Boisvere, Pete Honea, Rick Belles, Don Whye, Ken Jones, Greg Nau, Al McCasland, Karl Winters, Mike Collins, and Dean Sanner will be missed next year, but the team has excellent swimmers and divers in reserve to fill the gap.



A freestyle event gets off to a flashing start.

Allan Rollo makes a brilliant back check in hopes of stopping the Trade Beavers.

Ray Trybus — Right wing

Dick Brodeur — Defense

After taking all the honors in the Fay Division last year, Coach Welker's hockey team secured a position of top contention in the Wright Division this season. True to form, the puckmen met the challenge of stiffer competition with a successful season. Many of the lettermen returned this year, and the team was led by such stand-outs as Tony Mancini, Gary Delisle, John Los, and Mike, Bill, and John Hurley. As the season progressed, the team was hindered by many injuries. Nevertheless, steady practice and constant improvement kept the team strong. Mr. Welker accredits much of this success to the second line support of Allan Rollo, John Taylor, Dave Gibbs, Dick Brodeur, and Ken Babineau. Although the team was narrowly edged out in the play for first place, they exhibited their skill as Comp athletes with consistent sportsmanship and hard work.

Prospects for next year's hockey season are hopeful. Returning as the basis for the team will be John Hurley, Ken Babineau, John Taylor, Dave Gibbs, John Gula, Ed Remillard, and Jim Pasterczyk, just to name a few. With the same coaches and the same effort, we can look forward to another good season in this rapidly growing sport.

Little things
Brighten,
Lighten
Our existence . . .

. . . And the failures of our hopes,
That once seemed so disastrous,
Lessen,
Are forgotten
As our understanding deepens . . .

The world is much too large
To take one single piece —
Survey it,
Hate it,
And call the whole a thing to be despised . . .

. . . Open wide the windows of your eyes —
Sadness,
Gladness,
Inseparably entwined,
Make life an unpredictable adventure
Of surprise . . .

Open wide the storm-doors of your soul —
The magic snow
Falling,
Then dissolving;
The smell of spring
Promising,
Fulfilling —
Simple yet wondrous,
Miraculous as any legend-miracle . . .

This is Life.
Accept it,
Love it,
Cherish the awareness that it brings.
For though it often stings,
This only serves to stress
The simple joys
Of little things.

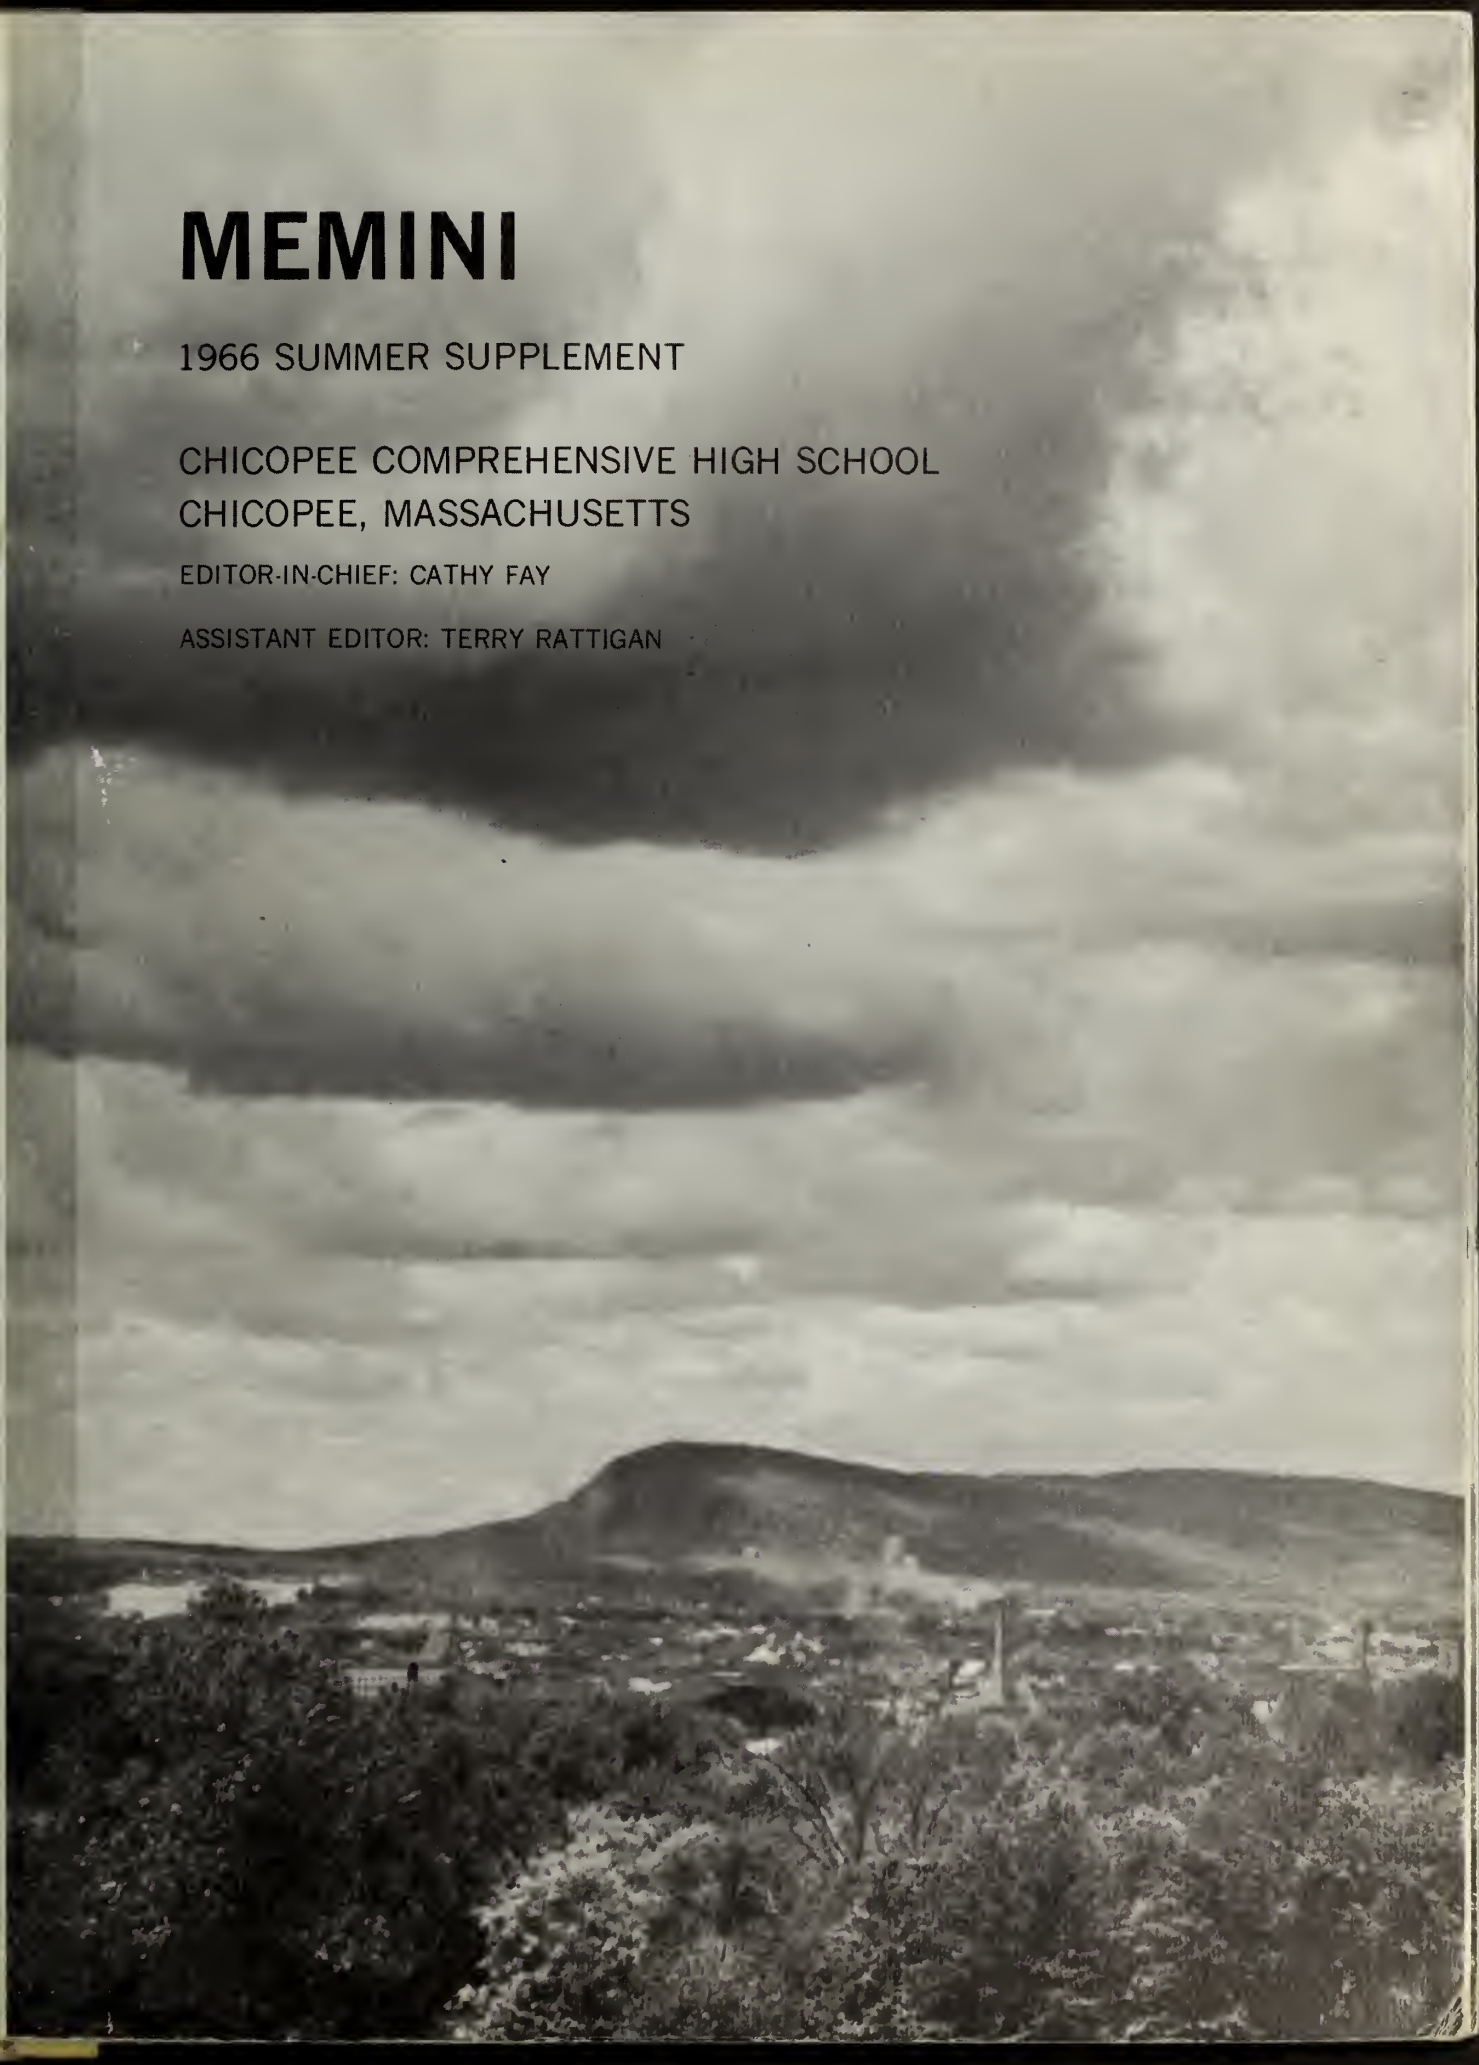
CHICOPEE COMPREHENSIVE HIGH SCHOOL
CHICOPEE, MASSACHUSETTS

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: CATHY FAY

ASSISTANT EDITOR: TERRY RATTIGAN



Governor John Volpe and Comp's top Republican, Principal Ziemba, meet as the governor begins his brief visit to Chicopee.

The G and F Clefs combine their voices for a melodious presentation as the Class of '66 watches in the background.

A bitter wind couldn't spoil a ride on the Staten Island ferry for Mr. Moran's seniors. To the poets of the group, watching the wake of the ferry and the swooping seagulls was even greater than the visit to the New York Stock Exchange.

The Governor's Visit . . . and the Countless Joys of Field Trips

From his talented players Mr. Otis receives the very gift he had always longed for — a beautiful white rabbit with pink eyes — reputed to be the famous Harvey of stage fame.

Tommy Wong

Dave Turgeon and Tommy Wong form a deadly doubles duo. The entire squad as a whole proved outstanding, having lost only one match since May, 1964. Thus, the win-loss record since that month is 31-1, a certainly fantastic record of victory.

Ann Furnelli and Gloria Respess with the help of their committee members created a fantastically beautiful senior prom. A sixteen piece orchestra provided music for the social event of the year.

Spring Fantasy — the Senior Prom

Look Park Will Never Be the Same . . .

The Class Picnic— Fun and Games . . . and Some Boredom

Will our heroes, Allen Mikell and Bruce Tease, be saved from disaster at the dam?? Will they live to see graduation day???!!!?? Unfortunately, yes.

The pursuers . . .

. . . and the pursued

The dam at the duck pond seemed awfully wide to Nina Walker and Sue Celotto as they approached the point of no return.

The Banquet — Happiness and Sadness

Mr. Ziemba receives what he's always needed — a decent bow tie.

At the moment of the yearbook dedication, Mr. Coscore is left with a stunned expression . . .

. . . But quickly recovers to sign the books of some of his favorite people — hockey players.

The face of Dean Sanner, our class president, expressed most typically how we all felt about the dedication.

Although yearbook distribution proved to be a confusing time, everyone somehow managed to finally get his Memini. It was a truly memory-filled evening. Even the dunkings that shattered the mirror surface of the Schine Inn pool could'nt drown out the sadness of parting that tinged the air.

Graduation Day —
Solemn, Yet Joyous . . .
Somewhat Confused . . .
Typically Our Class . . .

The Processional — the Class of 1966 enters to the solemn "War March of the Priests."

Ruth Malanowski, salutatorian, delivers the greeting.

The main address is given by the class valedictorian, Linda Lussier.

Our dearly beloved teachers gave us their usual warm, smiling encouragement.

A very beautiful farewell was given by Mary Ann Bozek, who sincerely spoke for herself and the entire class.

Barbara Paul, who acted as chairman of graduation ceremonies, receives her diploma from Mayor Richard Demers.

Our leader, Mr. Czarnecki — he taught us how to walk, to stand, to sit — and we followed his fine example.

Many smiles along with many tears distinguished the faces of the graduates as they left the gymnasium following the dissolving of the class.

Be on the look-out for this character: John "Pursesnatcher" Moran, wanted in 10 states.

Drama on the railroad tracks — Patt tries to save Karen from that ruthless villain, Timmy McDowell.

Will our heroes, Allen Mikell and Bruce Tease, be saved from disaster at the dam?? Will they live to see graduation day???!!!?? Unfortunately, yes.

The Class Picnic— Fun and Games . . . and Some Boredom

The pursuers . . .

. . . and the pursued

The dam at the duck pond seemed awfully wide to Nina Walker and Sue Celotto as they approached the point of no return.

The Banquet — Happiness and Sadness

Mr. Ziemba receives what he's always needed — a decent bow tie.

At the moment of the yearbook dedication, Mr. Coscore is left with a stunned expression . . .

. . . But quickly recovers to sign the books of some of his favorite people — hockey players.

The face of Dean Sanner, our class president, expressed most typically how we all felt about the dedication.

Although yearbook distribution proved to be a confusing time, everyone somehow managed to finally get his Memini. It was a truly memory-filled evening. Even the dunkings that shattered the mirror surface of the Schine Inn pool could'nt drown out the sadness of parting that tinged the air.

Graduation Day —
Solemn, Yet Joyous . . .
Somewhat Confused . . .
Typically Our Class . . .

The Processional — the Class of 1966 enters to the solemn "War March of the Priests."

Ruth Malanowski, salutatorian, delivers the greeting.

The main address is given by the class valedictorian, Linda Lussier.

Our dearly beloved teachers gave us their usual warm, smiling encouragement.

A very beautiful farewell was given by Mary Ann Bozek, who sincerely spoke for herself and the entire class.

Barbara Paul, who acted as chairman of graduation ceremonies, receives her diploma from Mayor Richard Demers.

Our leader, Mr. Czarnecki — he taught us how to walk, to stand, to sit — and we followed his fine example.

Many smiles along with many tears distinguished the faces of the graduates as they left the gymnasium following the dissolving of the class.

PEANUTS
I'M A REPORTER FROM OUR SCHOOL PAPER, LINUS...
WOULD YOU CARE TO TELL US WHAT YOU INTEND TO DO IF YOU'RE ELECTED SCHOOL PRESIDENT?
I INTEND TO STRAIGHTEN THINGS OUT!
WE ARE IN THE MIDST OF A MORAL DECLINE!! WE ARE...
I'LL JUST PUT DOWN THAT YOU'RE VERY HONORED, AND WILL DO YOUR BEST IF ELECTED..
THE PRESS IS AGAINST ME!

YOUR TROUBLE, CHARLIE BROWN, IS THAT YOU LIVE BY MOTTOS AND TRITE SAYINGS..
YOU REALLY THOUGHT THAT IF YOU GRITTED YOUR TEETH, IT WOULD HELP YOU TO BECOME A HERO.. WELL, THERE'S MORE TO LIFE THAN JUST GRITTING YOUR TEETH...
CHARLIE BROWN, DO YOU UNDERSTAND WHAT I'M TRYING TO TELL YOU?
MAYBE I DIDN'T GRIT THEM HARD ENOUGH...MAYBE IF I...
SIGH!
SCHULZ

Every book should end with something of profound meaning. The PEANUTS of Charles Schulz most clearly show us the problems and difficulties we have experienced — and most clearly show us our follies, our habits, our enthusiasm, our procrastination, our thoughtfulness — the many components which, jumbled together, form the people that we are. We look at Charlie Brown and Lucy and Linus and Snoopy, and we see a strange but true reflection of ourselves. It is through this reflection that we learn a little more about ourselves. And what is more profound than a realization of self-knowledge?

"GULLIVER'S TRAVELS.... PART ONE... CHAPTER ONE.."
RATS! I CAN'T READ A BOOK ON A SATURDAY....I STILL HAVE TOMORROW TO READ IT.. WHY DON'T I WAIT UNTIL TOMORROW?
I CAN READ IT TOMORROW AFTERNOON, AND WRITE THE REPORT TOMORROW EVENING.. WHY WASTE A GOOD DAY LIKE TODAY?
I WAS GOING TO SAY SOMETHING, BUT I CHANGED MY MIND!

PEANUTS
I'VE THOUGHT UP SOME STRATEGY FOR YOU, CHARLIE BROWN..
TELL THE OTHER TEAM WE'RE GOING TO PLAY THEM AT A CERTAIN PLACE THAT ISN'T THE REAL PLACE, AND THEN, WHEN THEY DON'T SHOW UP, WE'LL WIN BY FORFEIT!
ISN'T THAT GOOD STRATEGY?
I DON'T UNDERSTAND THESE MANAGERS WHO REFUSE TO USE GOOD STRATEGY!

DEAR EDITOR OF "LETTERS TO THE EDITOR", HOW HAVE YOU BEEN?
"HOW HAVE YOU BEEN?" WHAT SORT OF LETTER IS THAT TO WRITE TO AN EDITOR?
I JUST THOUGHT HE MIGHT APPRECIATE HAVING SOMEONE INQUIRE ABOUT THE STATE OF HIS HEALTH
EDITORS ARE SORT OF HUMAN, TOO, YOU KNOW!
